STOP MOTION ACTION!

Clay Animation Summer Camp

For Kids

Have you seen “Chicken Run” or “Wallace and Gromitt”? Ever wonder how these movies are made? Stop Motion Animation has been around for years but changes in technology have made the process easy and fun for all ages!

Join us in a week of Stop Motion Fun Filled Action!!

This camp will provide the opportunity for youth to explore animation, sculpting, visual literacy, and multimedia concepts while working in small, collaborative teams of kids their own age led by a teacher who will guide their exploration and discovery.

Each team will brainstorm an idea, create a storyboard and script, sculpt clay puppets, build scenery, and design special effects while shooting and editing a stop-motion animation movie. The week will end with an Animation Theater where students will share what they’ve learned and their final Clay Animated Movies will be debuted!

For example movies from previous Clay Animation Summer Camps look here: <http://education.wichita.edu/claymation>

All sculpting equipment, art supplies, digital cameras, and computer technology will be provided by ESSDACK.

Each student will sculpt their own clay puppet and work in a team to create an original clay animated movie.

All students will take home:

*A Stop Motion Action camp T-shirt

*Their own clay puppet

*Tickets for all of their friends and family to attend the Animation Theater, Friday, June 23 at 3:00 pm at ESSDACK.

*Memories that will last forever!

Student movies will be published on the web for all to enjoy!
