WHO
The Colleges of Fine Arts and Education at Wichita State University are offering a Clay Animation Camp for kids who will complete 4th – 7th grade at the end of Spring 2005.

WHAT
The camp will provide a structured environment where small groups of kids will work with teachers to create a storyboard, clay puppets, scenery, and special effects while shooting and editing a stop-motion animation movie.

WHEN
Monday-Friday, July 18-22, 8:30 am – 12:30 pm

WHERE
Wichita State University, McKnight Art Center
1845 Fairmount St., Wichita, KS 67260

WHY
This camp will provide the opportunity for children to explore animation, sculpting, visual literacy, and multimedia concepts while working in small, collaborative teams with a teacher who will guide their exploration and discovery.

COST
$75 per student. All sculpting equipment, cameras, and computer technology will be provided by Wichita State University.
